There was a slight wreck at the west end of the railroad bridge last Monday caused by a flange coming off a wheel on a west bound freight. Only one pair of trucks left the track and the only serious damage was that traffic was delayed for about six hours on the branch.

Senator Smith got into the game at Topeka early. He is reported in Monday's Star as losing his pocket book containing $35 and his railroad passes, and in Tuesday's papers as defying the will of Boss Cy and telling him to crack his whip if he wanted to—that he could not run the senate.

Dr. Alexander writes that he is having the best time imaginable visiting around among friends and relatives in Kentucky. He says that the famous Kentucky whiskey has no charm for him and that he expects soon to be back among his friends in Kansas and again at work in his profession.

Miss Ethel Avery closed her dancing class last Friday evening. She invited a number of extra guests and they all enjoyed a very pleasant evening dancing to the excellent music furnished by the orchestra. Miss Avery is a very successful teacher, and parents desiring to have their children learn the graceful art of dancing will do well to patronize her.

G. W. Gilson returned from Beaver county, Oklahoma, the first of the week. He found a location to suit him adjoining the lively little town of Guyman where he filed on a good piece of government land. He expects to go into business in the town where they already have a good school and are making arrangements to erect a $2400 church. He has sold his farm in this county to O. E. Dobson who will take possession in the spring when Mr. Gilson is ready to move. His many friends in this county will wish him every success in his new venture.

An alarm of fire brought out the fire department Tuesday evening about eight o'clock. The fire was up stairs in the Tatum building over Gregg's meat shop. This place is a regular rookery for kids, and the fire was caused by coals falling from a stove in a room occupied by Pick Payne and the little Renstrom boy. They sleep elsewhere and apparently use this room as a rendezvous. Parties occupying one of the other rooms detected the fire before it had got much of a start and put it out. Had the alarm been delayed a few moments we would have had one of the most disastrous fires in the history of the city.

When Phil Moleitor took possession of the office of sheriff on Monday noon, he named George McLaughlin as his under-sheriff.

James Lesley and Miss Lillie Jarvis, both of Lewis, were married in the office of the probate judge in this city Wednesday of last week.

P. A. Peynolds, a former resident of this city, is making arrangements to start a paper in Bucklin, Kansas. He says he is getting plenty of encouragement and thinks the field a good one.

Why wait till next February to get Cloaks, Overcoats and heavy goods at a bargain, when A. Hottewitz is offering them now—before winter has commenced and at the time of year when you need them.

The flower catalogues are beginning to appear and the feminine portion of Kinsley is figuring on the delight of purchasing rare collections—bulb bargains and choice flowering plants for the Kansas winds to paralyze.

Father Lenehan was down from Dodge the first of the week to see Mr. James Burns, who for some time has been in poor health. He first took Mr. Burns back to Dodge with him and then to Wichita where he will go into the Catholic hospital for treatment. It is anticipated that as soon as his health will permit he will again return to Ireland and make his home with his sister.

The Smith and Maurettus Concert Company will appear in this city January 23 and 24 at the opera house. Tickets 15c, 25c, and 35c. Reserve your seats at Leonard's. This company comes highly recommended. Mr. P. B. Goodwin, baritone singer, Prof. Charles E. Maurettus, the clever ventriloquist, with his family of wood-n-heads, Mr. Chas. E. Brown, the clever impersonator, and Mr. and Mrs. Smith, musical artists playing on fifty different instruments, will certainly be able to interest and amuse all who hear them.

Clay McKibben of Belpre, is attending a college in Wichita. He writes his parents that he is on the base ball nine and the foot ball eleven, and that they are traveling around the state and the Indian Territory sporting. His father in discussing the matter puts on considerable bluster and wants to know whether he sends his boy to college to develop his brains or his muscle and suggests to the boy that if it is physical exercise he is looking for he can come home and pitch sorghum. The fact is, however, that El is as tickled over the boy's distinction in athletics as if he had discovered the north pole.

The entertainment committee have been very fortunate in securing Prof. Ed Amherst Out of the Chicago School of Expressions for Jan. 28. "Prof. Out has not only a pleasing personality, but also a marked individuality. He has gone upon the platform with a purpose of his own, and method of his own; his material is vital; he pleases his audience, not by saying what it might desire, but by expressing his own thoughts in an elegant and pleasing manner. He will win an audience by humor, pathos or magnificent energy, but never by sacrificing a truth to local sentiment. He does not ride upon the waves of old sentiment, uses no platitudes or trite sayings, but follows in the footsteps of those classic orators who made thought and created public opinion instead of fawning at the feet of 'cheap popularity'. Vital themes, when bravely presented, are after all most popular. The favor with which his departure has met shows this. Truth is always popular when introduced with magnetism and from the heart of 'one of nature's noblemen'. His lectures are along the line of, Byron King's.

Mr. Will Newhouse, a brother of Boston Newhouse who owns the Newhousevale ranch, will be married to Miss Lily Lena, on January 25th, in London, England. The former is a professional cyclist and is making a great success. The latter is leading lady in "Aladdin and the Lamp" at Royal Theatre, London. She is known for her beauty. Mr. Will Newhouse is a brother of Mr. C. Newhouse, who manages the Newhouse ranch south of Belpre in this county.

The program at the First Methodist Episcopal church last night was thoroughly artistic and varied. Scoldo do we see two people give so complete a program. The piano solos were most artistic, and the violin solos were masterly given. The zither and guitar numbers were the crowning features of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Pitts certainly showed themselves masters of their instruments. Program excellent, each number receiving hearty encores.—Wichita Eagle.

C. W. Class, our genial station agent, was up against the real thing for a short time Wednesday. Some of the farmers who have been coming to town day after day for coal and getting none, appointed a committee of two to visit the station and inform the agent that they were about to vote an appropriation of company coal and to govern himself accordingly, which he promptly did by notifying R. D. Heath & Sons that they could have a car of company coal which was standing on the track. The work of unloading was begun and only two loads taken from the car when the belated local arrived and set out three cars for this place. The amount of coal which had been taken from the company car was returned, everything was all serene—no question and no explanation.
